Patsy Rust to Join with MainStreet Bank (In Organization)

HERNDON, VA – Successful Herndon Banker Patsy I. Rust has joined with the organizers of a new locally owned and operated Community Bank. MainStreet Bank (in Organization) is on-course to open later this year.

Ms. Rust's 22-year banking career is tied to Northern Virginia, and has very successfully focused on the Herndon market. Ms. Rust is no stranger to starting a new bank, having been involved with such successful start-up Banks as McLean Bank, Bank of the Potomac, and F & M Bank – Northern Virginia. Thom Hanes, former President and CEO of F&M Bank, stated that "Patsy Rust is simply a terrific banker, well known for her ability to provide first class service to her customers."

Ms. Rust is heavily involved with the Herndon community, involved with the Council for the Arts of Herndon, The Herndon Historical Society, Herndon Woman's Club, Herndon Community Television and Sister Cities International.

"I am very excited to have joined forces with MainStreet Bank during the organizational period. We discussed the long-term objectives of the bank, and its role within the community. It is refreshing to see a new bank focused on such strong ideals. This will definitely be the bank I want servicing my customer base. Our commitment to the customer, along with the desire to remain an independent community bank for the long-term is what this community needs" said Rust. During the organizational period, Ms. Rust will be developing products and services that work for her customers. "To be successful in banking today means to look real hard at what the customer needs, and then design products or services that meets or exceeds those needs" said

Patsy. “That product may or may not look like other bank’s, but we don’t intend to be like other banks.”

Ms. Rust is a Graduate of the University of Virginia Bank Management School as well as the American Bank Association. Ms. Rust has been named as the Business and Professional Woman of the Year, and Citizen of the Year by the Herndon Times Newspaper.

President and CEO Jeff W. Dick is excited to have Patsy joining force with the new Bank. “Patsy is such a formidable business woman in the Herndon community. People know and respect her, and her customers understand that she is always looking out for their best interest.” Our goals and objectives couldn’t be more harmonious.
